TRUSTEES' ANNUAL REPORT

The Trustees have pleasure in presenting their report and the unaudited financial statements of the company for the year to 31 March 2016.

OBJECTIVES AND ACTIVITIES

Objectives

The objects set out in the Memorandum of Association of the company are:
To promote education and science by supporting other charities working in areas relating to agriculture and food production to make better use of their funds.

AFCP believes that greater effectiveness can be achieved by appropriate collaborations and information exchange, either with charities or other organisations e.g colleges, research organisations. AFCP is a facilitator, primarily through the medium of its website, that brings together those looking for educational or research funding and charities providing appropriate grants that meet these needs, also arranging meetings for charities, funders and researchers to share information and ideas.

During the past year AFCP has delivered its charitable objectives by acting as an umbrella or resource organisation that freely provides information for the benefit of the public and those charities supporting the industry. In support of its objectives a range of activities have been undertaken. (See below.)

Aims

To identify, develop and communicate opportunities and synergies for collaboration between charities operating in the agrifood sector.

To provide information to individuals seeking to establish or develop their careers in the agrifood sector through support from charities and other not-for-profit organisations, primarily through the provision of an up-to-date and relevant website.

Activities:

The principal activity of the company during the period is the promotion of the activities and operation of the charities supporting the agricultural, food and land based industries, together with the coordination and provision of information to improve the efficiency and effectiveness of the said group of charities.

To further develop AFCP's effectiveness in relation to information and awareness of careers within the industry, a grant was awarded from the NFU Mutual Charitable Trust. This grant enables AFCP to provide appropriately structured and easily accessible information on careers. As part of this activity AFCP has been able to support an initiative in East Anglia aimed at understanding how school children receive information about food, farming, and the countryside. This aims to deliver information to teachers about the importance of food and farming in a way that is easily accessible and is relevant to the curriculum.

Support for charities is a key role for AFCP and an important route is through the establishment of small groups of charities having similar aims and areas of interest. One group of East Anglia based charities meets regularly to discuss ways that greater cooperation can improve their effectiveness in providing support for individuals and the industry. Recently this has led to a proposal for a jointly funded project where charities will be required to provide just half of the funding for a strategically important project, the other half coming from a major industry funder.

An equally important role for AFCP in supporting charities is the Annual Forum. Last year the Forum entitled "Career development and retention in the agrifood sector: opportunities for charities" explored a number of different career opportunities and reviewed the ways that charities could help individuals seeking to obtain or develop their career in the industry.

The website continues to provide information on opportunities for individuals seeking charitable support for their specific activity. It is regularly reviewed to keep it up to date and has been improved to allow more space for the "Latest News" section.

Public Benefit

The charity meets its objective of enabling people who are seeking financial support for educational activities related to the science and practice of agriculture and food production to identify appropriate charities. This enables charities working in this field to be more effective and enables them to provide more public benefit.

Anyone can use the charity's services for the public benefit via an open access searchable website. The charity provides freely available access to opportunities for those seeking support for educational & research activities related to the science and practice of agriculture and food production. Public benefit results from quicker, more cost effective access to appropriate funding which facilitates education & research.

STRUCTURE, GOVERNANCE AND MANAGEMENT

The Agrifood Charities Partnership (AFCP) is a registered charity (No. 1162177) and a company (No. 6510709), incorporated on 20 February 2008. AFCP achieved registration as a Charity on 12 June 2015. A board of directors, who also act as Trustees, manages AFCP in accordance with the Articles of Association of the company.

Trustees are recruited through the network of agrifood charities and it is the intention that the Board represents the cross-section of activities in the sector. No Trustee receives any benefit from AFCP. The CEO and Financial Administrator are paid on a self-employed basis.

This report and the financial statements have been prepared in accordance with these documents, relevant statutory requirements and the Statement of Recommended Practice on Accounting and Reporting by Charities 2015.

ACHIEVEMENTS AND PERFORMANCE

The Trustees confirm that AFCP has participated in activities in pursuit of its charitable aims and objectives as explained in the Activities Section above.

FINANCIAL REVIEW AND RESERVES POLICY

The charity recorded a surplus of income over costs of £2,705, compared to a restated surplus of £13,294 in year to 31 March 2015.

The accounts for the year to 31 March 2015 have been restated, following AFCP's registration as a Charity and to comply with Charities Statement of Recommended Practice regarding the recognition of income from grants and donations when received rather than on a matching basis. The reserved grant and donation income received prior to 31 March 2015 but unallocated to income has been recognized as income for year to 31st March 2015.

Funds held on reserve at 1 April 2016 are £17,683, as represented by the bank current account; AFCP has no other assets. This, together with expected subscription income from member charities, represents an operating capacity for one year. The Trustees consider this level of reserve to be sufficient in the short-term. Going forward, it is vital that AFCP secures additional funding to support its activities beyond this time-scale, and the Trustees have a priority to seek additional source of funds.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DIRECTORS

The Charities Act requires the trustees to prepare financial statements for each financial period which give a true and fair view of the state of affairs of the charity at the end of the period and of the surplus or deficiency for the period then ended.

In preparing those financial statements, the trustees are required to select suitable accounting policies, as described on page 11-12, and then apply them on a consistent basis, making judgements and estimates that are prudent and reasonable. The trustees must also prepare the financial statements on the going concern basis unless it is inappropriate to presume that the charity will continue in business.

The trustees are responsible for keeping proper accounting records which disclose with reasonable accuracy at any time the financial position of the charity and to enable them to ensure that the financial statements comply with the Charities Act 2011. The trustees are also responsible for safeguarding the assets of the charity and hence for taking reasonable steps for the prevention and detection of fraud and other irregularities.

REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT EXAMINER
TO THE TRUSTEES OF THE AGRIFOOD CHARITIES PARTNERSHIP

I report on the accounts of the Agrifood Charities Partnership (charity no 1162177) for the year ended 31 March 2016 which are set out on pages 9 to 12.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The trustees (who are also the directors of the company for the purposes of company law) are responsible for the preparation of the accounts. The trustees consider that an audit is not required for this year under section 144(2) of the Charities Act 2011 (the Charities Act) and that an independent examination is needed.

It is my responsibility to:

- examine the accounts under section 145 of the 2011 Act;
- to follow the procedures laid down in the general Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145(5)(b) of the 2011 Act; and
- to state whether particular matters have come to my attention

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination was carried out in accordance with the general Directions given by the Charity Commission. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts, and seeking explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit, and consequently no opinion is given as to whether the accounts present a 'true and fair view' and the report is limited to those matters set out in the statement below.

Independent examiner's statement

In connection with my examination, no matter has come to my attention:

(1) which gives me reasonable cause to believe that, in any material respect, the requirements

- to keep accounting records in accordance with section 130 of the Charities Act; and
- to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with the accounting requirements of the Charities Act have not been met; or

(2) to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
